

2nd International Conference
on Governance, Crime and Justice Statistics 2014

Enrico Bisogno

Since 1995 Mr. Bisogno has gained in-depth expertise on statistical processes, including data collection and analysis, as well as related research activities and reports publication. He started his career as Statistician in ISTAT (Italian Statistical Office), and subsequently worked at the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe.

For the past five years at UNODC, Mr. Bisogno has been working in the Statistics and Survey Section, focusing on crime and criminal justice related statistical standards, including supervising data collection and the production of analytical reports, as well as managing technical assistance projects at national and regional levels.

Mr. Bisogno holds a PhD in Demography from the Sapienza University of Rome and a Master's Degree in Statistics and Demography from the University of Padua.