

Rocío González

PhD in Law from the Pompeu Fabra University of Barcelona. Master's Degree in Criminology and Criminal Enforcement from the same university. Bachelor's Degree in Law from the National University of Mexico (UNAM) with a Certification Program in Public Policy and Gender from FLACSO-Mexico

At Ministry of the Interior (SEGOB), she worked in the Technical Area for the Implementation of the Criminal Law Reform (SETEC), she also held the Directorate for International Cooperation and she was a parliamentary advisor in the LX Legislature of the Congress of the Union.

Her areas of interest are, among other, the performance of the criminal justice system, gender and criminology.