

Rolando Ocampo Alcántar

Rolando Ocampo Alcántar obtained his BSc in Actuarial Sciences at the National Autonomous University of Mexico and Master's Degrees in General Statistics and in Labour and Education Economics at the Complutense University of Madrid and the Carlos III University, respectively. In the private sector, he was General Director of the opinion surveys firm GAUSSC and Director of the consulting firm CILA. He has collaborated in several government institutions in Mexico including the Office of the Republic's President, the Ministry of Agrarian Affairs, the National Agrarian Registry and various areas of the National Institute of Statistics and Geography where he currently serves as Vice President of the Government Board.

Rolando Ocampo serves as Chair of the Executive Committee of the National Geographic and the Environmental Information Subsystem (SNIGMA), which has the responsibility to coordinate the State Units to produce, integrate and disseminate National Interest Information on the matters within its competence.

Since August 2013 he is the President of the United Nations Regional Committee on Global Geospatial Information Management for the Americas (UN-GGIM:Americas).